Application Instructions

Applications should include these materials in one PDF document:

- Application Form
- CV or Biosketch in NIH format, including education and current training level or position
- Abstract, with authors and coauthors. You must be the first or senior author. An abstract that meets the criteria for 2019 CSCO is preferred, but not required. Abstracts that were recently presented at a major symposium may be submitted.

Submit application materials to Anna Douangphachanh at adouan@cahon.org by Friday, June 7, 2019. Applications will be reviewed CAHON's Academic Committee.

Eligibility Criteria

- Available to CAHON Lifetime – Active, Active, and Associate Members. Associate members and those members who are within 3 years of graduation from fellowship programs are particularly encouraged to apply.
- Special consideration will be made for CAHON members who have volunteered for CAHON in the past.
- If selected, agree to submit your abstract to the Annual Meeting of CSCO before June 30, 2019 to present at the 21st CSCO Annual Meeting. Abstract submissions can be made at <http://meeting.cSCO.org.cn/Useren/contribute/14>. Please submit your abstract to CAHON first.

Awardee Selection

Application will be scored by the Award Committee according to a combination of applicant's academic productivity in clinical and translational oncology, abstract merit in alignment with the theme of the 2019 CSCO meeting and applicant's volunteer contributions to CAHON.

Notifications

Award applicants will be notified of the Award Committee's decisions by end of Monday, June 17, 2019, by email notification.
