About CAHON

Bridging Cancer Care, Education and Research between China and the United States of America

Founded in 2005 by Chinese American hematologists and oncologists, CAHON is committed to fostering communication among Chinese American medical professionals with a goal of delivering high-quality health care to patients with neoplastic and hematological diseases. CAHON's mission extends to promoting hematology and oncology medical information exchange between the United States and China. CAHON strives to serve as a bridge among its members and between Chinese and American hematology-oncology communities, furthering medical and educational exchange between these stakeholders.

As a 501(c)(3) non-for-profit organization CAHON is fulfilling its mission to serve as a bridge, by cultivating longstanding domestic partnerships with a wide scope of organizations, including the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO), the American Society of Hematology (ASH), the American Association for Cancer Research (AACR), the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC), the Society of Chinese Bioscientists in America (SCBA); and internationally with the China National Medical Products Administration (NMPA) (formerly China FDA), ITOC Association, the Chinese Society of Clinical Oncology (CSCO), CSCO-Committee of Overseas Experts (COE).

JOURNAL OF HEMATOLOGY
& ONCOLOGY

Impact
Factor
23.168

Journal of Hematology & Oncology (JHO) is the official journal of CAHON. It is an open access journal that publishes top-quality research encompassing all aspects of hematology and oncology. The journal also publishes reviews and research highlights on "hot topics" from leading experts in the field and aims to serve as an international platform for sharing laboratory and clinical findings in an open access format among laboratory scientists, physician scientists, hematologists and oncologists. A rapid turnaround time from submission to publication means that knowledge and new successes can be shared in real time.

10th Annual New York Oncology Program (NYOF)

CAHON Annual Meeting & Awards Banquet

October 7-8, 2023

Flushing, NY

Hybrid Event with Live Stream and Interaction from all around the United States

The CAHON annual New York Oncology Forum (NYOF) is a one and a half day educational program that includes presentations on new developments and updates from the latest ASH, ASCO and SITC meetings including novel agents for Hematology and Oncology. 2023 will mark the 10th anniversary for this annual event and it draws more than 100 clinicians, researchers, medical students, clinical fellows as well as laboratory and health care related scientists working in the hematology and oncology. Approximately 70% of the attendees practice regionally, and 30% travel from other parts of the country.

An exhibition area will be set up away from the educational session throughout the event, for pharmaceutical companies, technology companies and commercial laboratories to showcase their products and services.
